Offering hope, help, and healing on issues related to pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors.

We train clergy, parish staff, parents, and others to mend minds, save, and heal hearts hurt by pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors.

There are many people offering information about the pornography pandemic, but few speak of proven solutions. No amount of information, no matter how good it is, can accomplish huge changes in behaviors. To address this issue, a professional team with expertise in mental health, addiction recovery, neuroscience, and technology spent many years and millions of dollars to create a research-based, anonymous, online, pornography recovery program. This new approach, called the Brain Science of Change, targets brain systems and has been proven with thousands of struggling individuals in more than 80 countries worldwide to change unhealthy sexual behaviors.

Bishop David Ricken asked Elizabeth Ministry International to partner with this secular organization. Through this collaboration, Catholic scholars, theologians, and psychologists created a Catholic format for this effective online recovery program, now called RECLAIM Sexual Health. It is designed to bring the full support of our faith to recovery and healing.

Learn more from Reclaim Consultants, Bruce and Jeannie Hannemann as they share their own pornography recovery story, what approaches can cause more damage, how to support those struggling with or affected by unhealthy sexual behaviors. You will be given tools for the confessional, spiritual direction or other settings.

"Under my direction, Bruce and Jeannie Hannemann, of Elizabeth Ministry International, have been instrumental in creating a private, anonymous, online, recovery program for overcoming pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors. Their presentation unveiling this program at our Priest's Congress was excellent and received rave reviews. I am now very pleased to make you aware of this wonderful resource for hope, help, and healing.

RECLAIM Sexual Health is a professional and science-based Catholic online program. Struggling individuals can safely go online and receive the education, tools, resources, and support they so desperately need. In addition to helping those who are addicted, we must also reach out to their spouses, parents, and other family members. RECLAIM provides free resources, training, and support for family members, as well as clergy and counselors.

I am very impressed with the way in which RECLAIM has combined research-based brain science and recovery methods with the Theology of the Body and other important Catholic doctrines and teachings. Science and spirituality work in harmony to help individuals break free.

RECLAIM addresses one of the most serious attacks being waged on the family today! I have personally asked Elizabeth Ministry to take on this challenge and ask you to do whatever you can to support this vitally important ministry of hope."

BRAIN SCIENCE OF BEHAVIOR

IN THE LIGHT OF FAITH

ABOUT OUR COMPELLING AND INSPIRING SPEAKERS

“I do not think I am exaggerating when I say that I believe your approach will save many marriages and many souls.”

Rev. Robert Sirico - President of Acton Institute

Bruce and Jeannie Hannemann are best known as the founders of Elizabeth Ministry International, offering hope, help, and healing on issues related to sexuality, childbearing, and relationships. Together they manage a headquarters for over 700 registered chapters on six continents and operate a retreat center for direct service to those in need. They have been married for over forty six years and are blessed to be enjoying the grandparent stage of life!

As the “Mad Scientist and the Church Lady” they are dynamic speakers known for their unique way of bridging science and religion. They are qualified to speak on the topic of pornography and sex compulsions from not only professional training, but from their own lived experience. At the request of Bishop David Ricken, they have shared their story of pornography and recovery in the press, on television and radio, with a desire to encourage others to seek help in overcoming sexual sins and offer hope for healing marriages. They were instrumental in the collaboration of scientists, psychologists, researchers, electronic learning technicians, and Catholic leaders to create RECLAIM Sexual Health, a state of the art, online recovery program for individuals struggling with pornography and other unhealthy sexual behaviors.

Bruce Hannemann, M.A.

As an author and public speaker, Bruce has shared his own recovery story with humility and candor. He is honored to tell his experience of God’s restoration in his life and marriage.

Bruce brings a wealth of understanding of young adults and the ability to teach scientific concepts with over thirty years experience teaching science at the college level. Bruce earned a Master’s Degree in Adult Christian Community Development with a concentration on Adult Learning.

His understanding of Theology of the Body combined with training in sex addiction recovery, brain science, and the biochemistry of sexuality has put an end to the mystery of lust and given him a way to share God’s plan for sexuality with proven answers that have touched the lives of many.

His witty personality, genuine compassion, and ability to take complex topics and teach them in a down to earth manner has made him a popular presenter.

Jeannie Hannemann, M.A.

Jeannie has over forty-five years experience assisting families through a variety of formats, including as an educator, parish pastoral and family life minister, Catholic radio talk show host, consultant, and retreat director. Jeannie has a Master’s Degree in Adult Christian Community Development with a concentration in Family Life.

Jeannie’s personal trauma journey through her husband’s unhealthy sexual compulsions, training in healing ministry, particularly for sexual betrayed spouses, extensive family life ministry experiences, and her faith in the power of God’s grace makes her a sought after and confident presenter

Jeannie is an internationally recognized author, speaker, and consultant. Her programs have won diocesan, state and national awards within the church and secular community. Drawing from lived experiences, advanced training, and a strong faith, she offers practical tools to help people make wise life decisions, emotional tools for developing healthy relationships, and spiritual tools to transform pain to peace.

“RECLAIM is a wonderful Catholic resource that is well grounded in science. What a blessing to have this help available to those struggling with Internet pornography, to their partners and to therapist who are seeking to help.”

Nancy Kluge, Ph. D., LCPC, Mental Health Therapist at Saint Luke Institute - National Expert on Sexual Addiction and Recovery Issues
